Many microphones feature built-in output cables with 1/8" (3.5 mm) male connectors on the end. You can plug them into the SR-210, and then connect to the headphone jack of an iPhone, iPad, iPod Touch, or an Android phone or tablet. Some audio equipment only provides a female 1/8" (3.5 mm) output. In this case you can plug a regular stereo 1/8" (3.5 mm) male to 1/8" (3.5 mm) male cable into the output, then connect the SR-UC201 to the cable, then connect to the mobile device of your choice. It is compact and lightweight and features shielded construction and gold-plated connectors.
