You can control the HD-R1 from the intuitive front-panel interface, or you can use the RS-232, Parallel, or RJ45 connectors on the rear to control the unit remotely. Signal I/O options include analog RCA, XLR, and Euroblock connectors, and digital coaxial S/PDIF as well.

The unit has built-in mic preamps with a 20dB pad that also provide phantom power, so you can plug a microphone directly into the recorder. A front-panel 1/4" headphone jack with a volume control provides convenient monitoring.
